

Route back to The Look Out

The track back towards The Look Out is also known as Bracknell Road. You can also turn left here to follow a track known as the Camel's Humps. This route is hilly (hence the name), but more direct than along Bracknell Road.

It is almost exactly a mile along Bracknell Road. At the end of the long downhill and within sight of the A322, turn left to head back to The Look Out. It is ½ mile back from here, and you arrive back under the Go Ape rope bridge.

Final Junction at the end of Bracknell Road